

MediStaffCare by MediTelecare™

MediStaffCare expands our telehealth services to frontline healthcare workers and staff members, providing you with easy access to quality behavioral health care when it's needed most.

Many healthcare workers are facing increased stress, anxiety, and fatigue due to the pandemic. Caring for yourself and your emotional well-being is important now more than ever. Our clinical team provides quality behavioral health care and support through discreet telepsychology visits.

If you, a colleague, or one of your staff members are feeling overwhelmed by work stressors, depressed, disconnected from others, or traumatized by the loss and grief you have witnessed, our team is here for you. MediStaffCare can help provide the following:

-  Access to behavioral health care via our secure MediTelecareGo! app
-  Mental health counseling, with qualified clinicians
-  Avoidance of outpatient settings
